

Sinclair's decision to air an obvious partisan anti-Kerry program is reprehensible - a biased, partisan program about President Bush would be equally distasteful.

Does this mean that anyone with enough money and gall can buy TV stations and air psuedo-news at will? Can we expect the FTC to be at as upset about this Facist approach to TV news as it it has been about super bowl vulgarity?

If the Sinclair people are acceptable as custodians of the airwaves that belong to the American People then the notion of FCC oversight is a giggle.
